

April 30, 2003

Capcom Co., Ltd.
3-1-3 Uchihirano-machi, Chuo-ku,
Osaka 540-0037, Japan

Capcom and Vodafone agreed to distribute mobile phone contents in Europe!!

- Capcom expands its mobile phone contents supply to much wider extents -

We are pleased to make an announcement that Capcom has entered into the agreement with Vodafone Global Contents Services Inc., located in U.K. as one of the affiliated entities of Vodafone group, to supply our contents through their mobile phone services program.

We are planning to supply our contents such as "1942" and "Commando", one of the contents highly played in the old days to mobile phone users through "Vodafone Live!" on charge basis. More contents after two are to be followed to expand its customers base.

We already started distributing game contents for mobile phones through Far Eastone Telecommunications (Taiwan) last December, and SmarTone (Hong Kong) this March in Asia.

Contents themselves will dominate its success of contents supply business including stronger recognition of its brand names.

We have been producing stronger contents to the console markets and we will spur its maximization of our contents such as "Street Fighter", "Megaman" and "Resident Evil".

---